

ELECTION NEWS.

At twelve o'clock last night Maryland had been conceded to the Republicans.

The indications were that Kentucky had gone for McKinley.

Partial returns from Nebraska showed reduced majority for Bryan, with a possibility of the State going for McKinley.

Incomplete returns from New York State, outside Greater New York, give McKinley 115,000 majority, Bryan carried the city by 15,000.

Illinois and Indiana are considered in the Republican column.

Deleware was thought to be lost to McKinley.

Returns indicate McKinley's election by reduced majority of 1896.

Indications are that the electoral vote will not be very different from the vote of 1896.

New York Journal estimates House of Representatives: Democrats, 189; Republicans, 161; Independents, 7.

Republican managers say Democrats concede McKinley's election.

Late Frost.

Up to yesterday morning we had not had a falling frost this fall, though the indications last night led us to believe that we might have a white frost this morning.

The cotton crop in this section has been very little benefited by the late fall.

Dedication Postponed.

Salem Church, Mt. Carmel charge, will not be dedicated on the second Sabbath of November as planned.

A. R. P. Minutes.

The printing of the A. R. P. Minutes of the 1900 Synod, has been awarded to the Press and Banner.

MR. J. E. McCracken a former printer at Abbeville, but now a farmer at Mount Carmel, was in town last Monday with a handsome son and a pretty daughter, looking for the photographer when we parted with him.

Dr. Mosley was in town last Monday. He performed a difficult task in settling the estate of Dr. J. T. Baskin in a manner satisfactory to all.

His father of Arthur McGee, the young man who mysteriously disappeared near Honea Path a few days ago, believes that his son is still alive, but his mind is unbalanced.
